

Biography

Ashutosh Aggarwal obtained his bachelor degree (B.Tech.) and master degree (M.Tech.) in Computer Science and Engineering from Guru Nanak Dev University Amritsar, India and Dr. B.R. Ambedkar National Institute of Technology Jalandhar, India in 2010 and 2012, respectively. In 2013 he began working on his Ph.D. on Image Super-resolution and its applications at Department of Computer Science, Punjabi University Patiala, India. He is currently serving as an Assistant Professor in Computer Science and Engineering Department, Thapar Institute of Engineering and Technology, Patiala, India. He has previously worked as a Project Fellow for two years in government funded UGC SAP (DRS-II/III) sponsored project in the Department of Computer Science, Punjabi University Patiala, chapter/section, and 03 conference papers. 13 journal papers are indexed by SCI/SCOPUS (11 indexed by SCI, 02 indexed by SCOPUS). Furthermore, he is referee of various international journals (Elsevier, IEEE, and Springer) of high repute. His research interests include areas concerning Image Processing and Pattern Recognition, i.e., Image Super-Resolution, Face Recognition, Image Retrieval, Image Denoising and their application in medical imaging.